Completion of A, B, and C is required: (Please be specific, but concise.)

A. 1. Specific action requested: Drop REC 411 and Add PHE 407. Change name of this Health Education option to Worksite Health Promotion A. 2. Effective date: Fall 2010 A. 3. Effective date of suspended programs for currently enrolled students: (if applicable)	B. The justification for this action: It is essential that students who work in Worksite Health Promotion have a thorough background in personal training and fitness (PHE 433) and a prerequisite to this course is PHE 407 – Strength and Conditioning. Students employed in Worksite Health Promotion are not as likely to come in contact with seniors, so we are dropping REC 411 (Therapeutic Recreation Services for the Senior Adult). This helps us to stay as close as possible to 120 hours for the option. We would also like to change the option title from Wellness to Health Education with an option in Worksite Health Promotion to better reflect the language in the field.
C. The projected cost (or savings) of this proposal is as follows: Equipment/Physical Facility Needs: n/a Library Resources: n/a

Health Education offers the Bachelor of Science degree in Health Education with three program options: Community Health, School Health P-12 (Teaching), and Wellness Worksite Health Promotion. Students who complete Community Health option are prepared to determine the health needs of the community and plan and implement effective programs to improve the health of the populations they serve. Community Health Educators may work in the Public Health Departments, Volunteer Organizations, Hospitals, and Family Resource Centers. Students in the School Health Option are prepared to teach core content health topics in public school system grades P-12 and a variety of health related agencies. Students in the Wellness Worksite Health Promotion option are prepared to facilitate behavior change by developing and implementing wellness and fitness programs in worksite health promotion organizations. A student may choose a minor in Community Health (non-teaching) or in School Health P-12 (Teaching). The Bachelor of Science program in Health Education has met national standards for accreditation from the Society of Public Health Educators, American Association for Health Education, National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education, and Kentucky Department of Education.

Students who transfer from another college or university must earn a minimum of 12 hours at EKU in the major. Students who transfer from another college or university must earn a minimum of six hours at EKU in the minor. Students who are accepted by the EKU Admissions Office and declare their major as Health Education must maintain an overall grade point average of 2.25 with a grade of "C" or better in all of the required major and supporting courses found in the Health Education Curriculum.
