Justification for Proposed Changes or for New Policy (Attach additional sheet if necessary)

The University needs a framework for better compliance with state law regarding the University's disposition of public records.

Consistency with EKU's Mission and Strategic Plan, Other Policies, and Related External Documents

Cite relevant official statements from EKU or external sources.

KRS 171.410

Impact on the University

(1) Identify resources (human, financial, physical, operational, technological, other) needed to implement and maintain compliance; (2) Identify changes to EKU's culture and/or behaviors that may be involved.

Will needs to establish Records Management Liaisons to assist with compliance. Will need to work on methods to educate the campus community on its responsibility with regard to records management.

List stakeholders who have been or will be consulted. Indicate action taken and the date it was taken. Attach additional page if necessary. To begin the policy process, at least one university-recognized group must have indicated support.

Records Management

Policy Statement

Eastern Kentucky University is committed to obeying all state laws governing the retention and/or destruction of University records. It is the responsibility of each individual employee to follow the records management regulations for the records they create and store. Department heads are responsible for ensuring the training of their employees in the records management policy and procedures. The University’s Records Administrator is responsible for assisting in the implementation of this policy.

As defined by KRS 171.410 (4), Eastern Kentucky University is a public agency. This means that all records created by University employees are public records. The retention and final disposition of these records is mandated by Kentucky statute and regulated by the Kentucky Department of Libraries and Archives (KDLA).

Public records are defined by Kentucky statute KRS 171.410 (1) as "all books, papers, maps, photographs, cards, tapes, disks, diskettes, recordings and other documentary materials, regardless of physical form or characteristics, which are prepared, owned, used, in the possession of or retained by a public agency."

Entities Affected by the Policy

All EKU Faculty, Staff, Administrators, and Registered Student Organizations

DISPOSITION OF PUBLIC RECORDS

Retention of Public Records at the University
University records are maintained based on the Record’s Life Cycle, meaning that records are created, used frequently for a period of time, and then destroyed or retained permanently. During the use phase, active records are accessed frequently and may exist in multiple offices. Once records are no longer being used frequently, but have not met retention requirements, they move to an inactive status. The Office of Record may or may not be the creator of the original record, but is ultimately responsible for its maintenance. Examples of the Office of Record for some of the University’s permanent or semi-permanent records include, but are not limited to, those outlined in the table below.

The retention time of University Records varies per type and function of each record. Records should be properly maintained in accordance with the Kentucky State University Model Records Retention Schedule (Records Retention Schedule). Note that the Records Retention Schedule refers to various copies of records, as well. Working copies may be used by offices for convenience purposes, but have a much shorter retention time than official record copies.

Destruction of Public Records at the University

Once records have met the retention time indicated by the Records Retention Schedule, they may be disposed of as long as no legal action or preservation directive is pending pertaining to the records. In order to dispose of records, a Certificate of Disposal must be filled out and sent to the Special Collections and Archives to provide an audit trail for the disposition.

Unless the Records Retention Schedule specifically denotes a separate retention time for copies, working copies do not require a Certificate of Disposal. Records containing confidential information must be shredded while non-confidential records may be recycled. If a record is not specifically listed on the Records Retention Schedule, contact a Records Management Liaison or the University Records Administrator for guidance.

Transmittal of Permanent University Records to Special Collections and Archives

Records deemed as permanent per the Records Retention Schedule that have historical value to the University should be transferred to the Special Collections and Archives when they no longer serve an active need in the originating or current-user office. Similarly, permanent student academic files should be transferred to the Registrar’s Office. Before transmitting to Special Collections and Archives or the Registrar’s Office, files should be examined to ensure that only permanent records are being transferred and the permanent records should be organized and neatly boxed in records center boxes. Once the boxes are prepared, a Records Transmittal form should be filled out, complete with a detailed list of contents, and sent to the Special Collections and Archives or the Registrar’s Office. If confidential records are included within the transmittal, Special Collections and Archives or the Registrar’s Office must be notified prior to transmittal.

To access the Kentucky State University Model Records Retention Schedule, relevant forms, and more information, visit records.eku.edu.

SELECTION OF THE EKU RECORDS ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The EKU Records Advisory Committee shall consist of the University Records Manager, the Registrar, and one representative from each of the following offices: Academic Affairs, Finance and Administration, Human Resources, Information Technology, Internal Audit, Institutional Equity, President’s Office, Student Affairs, and University Counsel. Area representatives should be the primary authority or a person designated by the primary authority. Additional members of the committee may be added at the discretion of the University Records Manager.

1. Committee members serve indefinite terms or until they can no longer represent their designated area.
2. All committee members are ex-officio voting members, except the representative from Internal Audit, who shall not vote.
3. The EKU Records Advisory Committee shall meet at least once a quarter.
